

James A. Hoffman, Jr.

- U14-U18 Boys & Girls DOC for Nike, United States Soccer Development Academy, Girls Elite National Soccer League (formerly Red Bull League)
- U14-U18 Competitive Boys & Girls DOC
- USSF Educational Staff Instructor
- VYSA Educational Staff Instructor
- The current US Paralympic Head Coach including the team that competed in Athens in 2004
- Played four years at East Stroudsburg State University prior to playing in various leagues such as the Canadian National Soccer League
- Started off his college coaching career in 1973 at Alderson-Broaddus College followed by Fredonia Univ. of NY and Girard College
- Coached the U-17 and U20 men's national teams and won a gold medal in 1999 as the US Women's head coach at the Pan Am Games
- Won a World Cup Title with the 1999 US Women's National Team.

- Named head coach of the Boston Breakers of the WUSA in 2000

- Professional Coach in the NASL, MISL, and USL